Clinical Leadership at King’s College London

Fully-online module delivered by King’s Business School

Module credit value: 15 academic credits

Application deadline: 6th January 2020

Module duration

Monday, 13th January - Friday, 29th May, 2020

Entry criteria

A minimum 2:1 degree classification will be required in medicine, psychology, nursing, pharmacy, professions allied to medicine, or a scientific degree relevant to health, such as biomedical science.

or

An experience of 5 consecutive years in a formal position of leadership with responsibilities for people and services in a clinical setting.

Module lead

Dr Alexandra Budjanovcanin

Module outline

The online Clinical Leadership module encourages students to engage with the academic and practical aspects of leadership and use their knowledge to refine their skills as effective leaders and drive their behaviour in a professional clinical setting. It achieves this through leadership development activities and reflection on their own practice. By gaining an understanding of different leadership styles and approaches, the module will introduce students to relevant topics, including:

leading diverse teams (taking account of inter-professional working practices in medical settings);

how leaders deal with failure/mistakes (both their own and within their teams) and sources of influence that individuals can draw on in enacting effective leadership.

Cost

Home/EU fees: £1,025

Overseas fees: £2,125

Apply

https://apply.kcl.ac.uk/